CONTINUATION OF

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE,

By the ſhip FANNY, Captain BRAINE, arrived at New-York, in 49 days from Greenock, and the ELIZA, Captain WILSON, from London.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 10.

A conſpiracy has been made to dethrone the ſultan; and ſeditious writings have been poſted up in the moſques.

The camps in the neighbourhood of Adrianople amount to 300,000 men, with a formidable train of artillery, exerciſed in the European way.

The Ottoman ſquadron, conſiſting of 6 ſhips of the line, 2 frigates, and a corvette, is not to be commanded by capitana bey, or vice-admiral; the captain pacha himſelf will command, who now thinks himſelf ſufficiently firm in the good graces of his royal maſter, to venture an abſence from the court, and ſail into the White ſea, regardleſs of his domeſtic enemies

The French ambaſſador found his court inſulted by an omiſſion of the captain pacha, who, when he hoiſted his flag, and, out of compliment, thoſe of all the principal maritime powers of Europe, omitted that ceremony only to the flag of France. Verninac preſented a very ſpirited memorial upon the ſubject, which the miniſter of ſtate affected to treat with levity; but finding it inſiſted on by the French ambaſſador, the Ottoman Porte diſclaimed by the admiral himſelf, any intentional diſreſpect to the republic, and ordered the captain of the ſhip to be put in irons. The French ambaſſador upon this went himſelf on board to beg the captain's liberation, and he was ſaluted with 9 guns by the whole fleet, which being unuſual, furniſhed a return of jealouſy to the other ambaſſadors.

The whole ſquadron is equipped completely in the European ſtile. The commander himſelf is not acquainted with his deſtination, not being to open his his diſpatches till he arrives at the Dardanelles. It is imagined that he will either remain in the Archipelago, to exact the annual contributions of the iſlands; or he may be ordered on ſome expedition againſt the rebel pacha of Acri, who has extorted great ſums of money from the ſubjects of the Porte, of which, in the preſent juncture, they have great need. What particularly points to this object is, the quantity of land and ordnance ammunition, which it would not be neceſſary to ſend on board a fleet deſtined only to cruiſe in the Archipelago.

Councils of ſtate ſit here frequently and long, upon occaſion of a family allianee between Ruſſia and Sweden, either concluded or ready to be ſo, which has deranged the intereſts of this empire extremely—we having reckoned upon the completion of the treaty of ſubſidies opened laſt year with that power. Another object of reflection is, the progreſs of the war between the Ruſſians and Perſians, uniformly in favour of the former power: alſo the aſſurance that the Poles were diſpoſed to make a new and vigorous reſiſtance, with the aid of the Turks, which would certainly be given, if the negociations were completed with other powers—events which cannot fail to operate the moſt important changes in the politics of the Porte.

The Cenſeur, French frigate, is ſailed for the Archipelago, to cruiſe againſt the enemy, which indeed ſhe may eaſily do, there being no Engliſh ſhip of war there at preſent. The Mal-eſe make us pay dearly for the veſſels we captured belonging to that ſtate.

ITALY, July 6.

The French privateers, which ſwarm in the Mediterranean, having greatly deranged the trade of that ſea, twenty ſhips have been fitted out at Corſica, and the Viceroy has offered a conſiderable reward for every French privateer brought in. Seven have already been taken.

Lorretto, in the Pope's territory, is already occupied by the French. There and at Ancona, they have ſeized all the valuables, and ſent the heavy ordnance againſt Mantua. The Pope is to cede Avignon for ever to France.

The large Engliſh magazines, which the French found at Leghorn, are worth many millions.

CARLSRUHE, July 15.

Extract of a letter from the Head Quarters of the army of the Rhine and Moſelle, at Carlſruhe.

"The inhabitants of this fine city having learnt that the Auſtrians, after an obſtinate conflict, had loſt their intrenchments near Raſtadt, ſupplicating them to ſpare their city, and aſſuring them that the Princes Caſtle and Court ſhould be at their diſpoſal, even to remove thither the ſick and wounded, on account of the good air it affords; theſe offers have been accepted, and the head quarters are eſtabliſhed, and will remain there till the ſurrender of the fortreſſes of Manheim and Philipſburgh.

"It appears that the French have made a general attack, on all the Auſtrian intrenchments between Heiderg, Winſen, and Philipſburgh. A dreadful cannonade began yeſterday afternoon in all thoſe directions; it laſted till very late at night, & was renewed this morning; a great number of waggons with wounded French and Auſtrians arrived here, which induces us to believe that the former have carried the intrenchments.

"P. S. This moment an Imperial Commiſſary and a Courier are conducted hither, decorated with the double faced eagle (embelliſhed with black and yellow ribbands, the emblems of pain and grief;) they come from the head-quarters of the Archduke Charles, with diſpatches for Citizen Barthelemi, Ambaſſador of the French Republic at Baſle."

FRANKFORT, July 18.

Deſertion is general in the Auſtrian army. Within theſe three days more than 2000 men have ſurrendered to the French. The regiment of royal Allemand, which they ſay had obtained its diſmiſſion, has deſerted in great part with arms and baggage.

The elector Palatine has re-demanded the troops he had with the Auſtrian army.

July 19.

Bonnard, general of the diviſion of reſerve of the army of the Sambre and Meuſe, to the magiſtrates of the city of Frankfort.

"Head Quarters, Frankfort, July 9.

"I give you advice, gentlemen, that in conſequence of the will of the general in chief, Jourdan, you will have no requiſitions to fulfil, beyond thoſe ſigned by the commiſſary in chief of the ſaid army.

"I inform you alſo, that nobody will force you to receive mandats: good will ſhall be the rule of all our operations.

(Signed) "BONNARD."

A magiſtrate of the city Frankfort to his fellow-citizens.

The commandant of our city, M. Darnaud, has tranſmitted to us ſeveral papers, of which we have thought proper to communicate to you the following:

1. Gentlemen, you will have the complaiſance not to deliver any billet for lodging, without a ſpecial order being preſented to you, ſigned by me or my ſecretary, citizen Muſſchot, whoſe ſignature in my abſence, will be valid.

2. You are requeſted to publiſh and ſtick up, chiefly in the public ſquares, coffee-houſes and taverns, the order not to be received after the retreat, any perſons, either ſoldiers or belonging to the army, under any pretence whatever: you will be reſponſible for the diſorders committed after this hour.

3. No inhabitant of the city, whoever he be, can, under any pretenee, keep one or more ſoldiers in his houſe.

4. You will be careful to ſend me all perſons who have complaints to make, or who have received the leaſt inſult from a ſoldier, or any perſon belonging to the army: juſtice and ſatisfaction ſhall be done to them immediately.

In communicating to our fellow citizens the good intentions of the French general, we engage them to do their utmoſt to ſecond them, in order to avoid the fatal conſequences that may reſult from the ſlighteſt offence of which they may be guilty.

CAPITULATION

Of the city of Frankfort, at preſent occupied by the imperial troops, between M. the baron de Brady, colonel in the emperor's ſervice, inveſted with powers by the count de Wartenſleben, general of artillery, commander of the Auſtrian army on the Lower Rhine; and the general of diviſion, Kleber, commander of the left wing of the French army of the Sambre and Meuſe, authorized by the general in chief Jourdan, ſigned at Bornheim, 26th Meſſidor, 4th year of the French Republic.

Art. I. Dating from the moment of the ſignature of the conditions here announced, there ſhall be an armiſtice of 48 hours between the two imperial and French armies upon the two banks of the Kentz, which ſhall ſerve for a line of demarcation, and from its ſource in the Mein, to the ſource of the Mein in the Rhine—Granted.

Art. II. At the expiration of the forty eight hours, the general of artillery, count of Wartenſleben ſhall withdraw the Imperial troops from the city of Frankfort, and ſhall convey them to the left bank of the Mein.

Rep. At the expiration of the forty eight hours the troops of the Republic ſhall immediately take poſſeſſion of the gates of Saxenhauſen, which ſhall not be given up until the rear of the Auſtrian column ſhall have entirely quitted the city.

Art. III. The garriſon at preſent in Frankfort ſhall carry with it its artillery and ammunition, they ſhall go out with their arms and baggage—Rep. Granted.

Art. IV. The property of the inhabitants ſhall be reſpected and ſecured; no puniſhment ſhall be inflicted, no reproach ſhall be made to the inhabitants for their conduct in former periods—Rep. The inhabitants ſhall rely upon this reſpect upon French generoſity, the ſentiments of which they will find in the proclamation of the general in chief, Jourdan to the inhabitants of the right bank of the Rhine; a proclamation of which Col. Brady will be pleaſed to diſtribute ſome copies to the inhabitants.

The capitulation was ſigned by the two parties at ſeven in the morning of the abovementioned day.

(Signed) The Baron de BRADY,
Colonel of the regiment of Murray.
KLEBER,
Commander of the left wing of the Sambre and Meuſe army.

Aid de Camp to General Kleber.

BOLOGNA, June 25.

On the 19th inſt. about ten in the morning, it was that the French, under the command of Gen. Angerau, entered this city. A corps, conſiſting of 1000 men, took poſſeſſion of the town and garriſon, in the name of the French Republic. The army were encamped at the diſtance of one mile.—Buonaparte and Salicetti arrived next day, and diſmiſſed the papal garriſon.

Buonaparte, after a ſevere reprimand for having ordered a young Piedmonteſe to be put to death on a charge of revolutionary principles, appriſed the Cardinal Legate, M. Vincetti de Victi, that his ſervices could be diſpenſed with, & ordered him to depart for Rome. This order was inſtantly obeyed by the cardinal.

On the 20th, the ſenate iſſued a manifeſto, declaring that the city of Bologna was permitted by the commander in chief of the French armies to reſume their ancient rights and privileges, that the legiſlative and executive authority was veſted wholly in the ſenate, who ſhould exerciſe it under the controul of the Republic of France, that the ſenate was ready to reinſtate in their reſpective offices all that were inveſted with the adminiſtration of the civil and criminal juriſprudence, and that they recommended to the repreſentatives of the city of Caſſel-Bologneſe, who had for time immemorial, been an appendage to Bologna, to haſten to recognize them and ratify the union.

The ſenate has alſo publiſhed an edict, enjoining the people peremptorily to deliver up all their fire-arms to the French Commiſſioner, or to the agents appointed by him.

The French are ſtill in poſſeſſion of the principal offices, for the tranſaction of national buſineſs, reſerving, however, the officers in their ſituations for the accommodation of the public. About 6 o'clock, upwards of a thouſand French ſoldiers appeared in different parties on the principal parade. In a few minutes the Swiſs guard marched under arms from the palace, and ranged themſelves in order among the French. The garriſon of Bologna next advanced, and arranged themſelves ſo as to be quite ſurrounded by the French troops. They now laid down their arms and ſurrendered themſelves priſoners of war to the French republic.

On the 22d in the afternoon were affixed on the front of the national palace, the arms of the French republic, quartered with the arms of Holland. The arms of the pope had been previouſly removed from all public and private edifices. The papal garriſon marched out, it is ſaid, for Nice; but the bands of muſicians, being national, were permitted to remain.

PARIS, July 25.

The corvette ſhip, l'Aſſemble Nationale, chaſed by a Britiſh frigate, was run on ſhore near the mouth of the river Treguier, and is loſt, with a part of her crew.

Queſnel, general of brigade, has informed the directory, that 720 chouans, in the diſtrict of Avranches, have laid down their arms, and that ſome ſmall bands only remain unſubdued, who pillage and impoſe contributions on the country people.

July 27.

The Directory have apprehended the principal leaders of the inſurgents in the camp of Grenelle; 130 were caſhiered, and were to be led from one brigade to another, but they have all eſcaped, except 30 of them, to Verſailles.

MARSEILLES, July 20.

To Citizen Fouvielle, the elder.

With a heart wrung with anguiſh, I announce to you, dear friend, that yeſterday was to our unhappy city, a day of horror and deſolation. Every honeſt citizen expected that his laſt hour was arrived. In a few words, the following affairs occurred:

The hangmen aſſaſſins, &c. all profiting of the amneſty, armed, like the robbers they are, in bands, went into all the ſections, where they cut down all who did not fly. They aſſaſſinated eight or nine citizens, and mortally wounded about 30.

In the number of the murdered, is the unhappy ſon of Bourguignon, whoſe father and brother, as you know, were guillotined. Savon is reported to have aſſaſſinated him, by ſtabbing him in the back, as he went out of his ſection, No. I.

In the afternoon theſe infamous wretches, marching always in bands, and vociferating againſt every thing good, paſſed a door where ſat an old man, aged 74 years, whom they alſo aſſaſſinated. As I hear, his name was Fabrice, a painter by profeſſion. In the ſuburbs the ſame horrors have been committed. At Mazargues alone, two citizens were killed, and eight or ten wounded.

HAGUE, July 12.

Our whole fleet is now completely fitted out, and the combined Engliſh and Ruſſian ſquadrons ſeeming to have quitted our coaſts, it will ſail with the firſt favourable wind from the Texel. By the time of its departure it will be twenty ſail ſtrong; has on its courſe other ſhips will join it. Its real deſtination is unknown, and admiral de Winter will have the command.

AMSTERDAM, July 1.

This city, as well as Rotterdam, has proteſted againſt the mode of paying the contribution of 60 millions out of the annual income of each individual of property.

Such has been the number of wounded in the late actions upon the Rhine, that moſt of the ſurgeons and apothecaries at Bruſſels have been ſent poſt to Luxemburgh, Maeſtricht and Liege.

July 7.

The following proclamation has been iſſued at Peterſburg.

"We count Alexander Nikolazen, do hereby give directions for the immediate releaſe and departure of all Dutch veſſels, together with their reſpective crews, on which an embargo was laid laſt year; but we alſo prohibit by this proclamation the entry of any veſſel from that country into our ports, and ſuch as do arrive ſhall be treated the ſame as French ſhips. In other reſpects they ſhall not be moleſted.

"The original was ſigned by her Majeſty.

PHILADELPHIA,

MONDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 3, 1796.

Says a Correſpondent,

Mr. Volney, the celebrated French author and traveller, left Lexington in Kentucky the latter part of Auguſt, on a tour through the Northern country, to the Lakes, &c. &c. We are informed that the object of this gentleman's journey is, to obſerve how the wind blows in the Weſtern Country.

From a Correſpondent.

We feel happy in announcing to the public, the arrival of the celebrated Equeſtrian, Mr. Rickett's and his company from the Eaſtward. The citizens of Philadelphia will now have it in their power of enjoying, the rational and manly entertainments of this unparellelled company.

From the Boſton Chronicle of Sept. 26.

We hear that Mr. Sewall is choſen for the Third Middle, and Mr. Skinner for the Firſt Weſtern Diſtricts.

From the Aurora.

The Boſton Chronicle aſſerts that Mr. Skinner is choſen for Congreſs from the Firſt Weſtern Diſtrict of Maſſachuſetts. Our readers will recollect, that by the account given in the Stockbridge paper, Mr. Williams appeared the ſucceſsful candidate by a majority of 30 votes. It will alſo be recollected that the Editor of the Stockbridge paper did not vouch for the accuracy of his ſtatement. Mr. Skinner was the Republican candidate. Mr. Sewall, who is undoubtedly choſen for the Third Middle Diſtrict, we underſtand is alſo a republicans

---

N. B. That Meſſrs. SKINNER and SEWALL, are Republicans, and Federal Republicans too, is a truth well known to the electors of both Diſtricts. Mr. Williams is alſo a Federal Republican.

Mr. FENNO,

OBSERVING my name in a liſt of candidates for the Select Council, "agreed upon by a number of my Fellow citizens met on the 27th ult." I will thank you to inform thoſe gentlemen, that it will be very inconvenient to me to attend to the duties annexed to it; and requeſt that they will nominate ſome other perſon in my place. I am, Sir,

Your moſt obedient Servant,
ROBERT SMITH.

Monday, October 3, 1796.

Mr. FENNO,

Be pleaſed to publiſh the following extract of a letter from a gentleman in Virginia, September 24th, 1796.

"I have been informed that Mr. Edmund Randolph who has lately viſited Mr. Jefferſon ſays, that Mr. Jefferſon will ſerve in the office of Preſident of the United States if elected."

It thus appears that Mr. Fauchet was correctly informed, when he ſaid that Mr. Jefferſon was the man on whom the PATRIOTS were turning their eyes as a ſucceſſor to the Preſident.—It is not impoſſible that facts hereafter may be developed, which will ſhew that Mr. Fauchet's declaration was equally true, when he ſaid that Mr. Jefferſon foreſaw the criſis of the inſurrection and on that account "prudently retired"—If this be ſo, what are we to think of a late pamphlet, which imputes indeciſion and dotage to Mr. Adams, ambition and hatred of liberty to Mr. Jay, indolence and cowardice to Mr. Hamilton; and which at the ſame celebrates this prudent retreat as a proof of diffidence, "which bluſhes while it receives the crowning honors of its country."

BY THIS DAY's MAIL.

BOSTON. September 27.

FROM LISBON.

Captain Gooding, who left that port Aug. 12, informs, that war between England and Spain was then generally expected—ſome even reported it to have taken place. The Portugueſe were under ſome apprehenſion of an invaſion from the French. Captain O'Brien, in the United States brig Sophia, failed from Liſbon for Algiers, Auguſt 8.

SPAIN AND ENGLAND.

Extract of a letter from Liſbon, dated Auguſt 10, to a reſpectable gentleman in Marblehead.

"As to politics, it is thought the general peace of Europe is remote; the court of Spain has concluded to diſpatch a ſquadron of 16 men of war from Cadiz (their deſtination a ſecret); but to ſail in company with Richery's ſquadron of 7 ſail of the line and 3 frigates: and openly gave out, that they mean to protect them. In conſequence of which, the Britiſh admiral Mann, who was cruiſing off Cadiz with 5 ſail of the line and 3 frigates, prudently retreated to Gibraltar. The reſult of this buſineſs, it is ſtrongly ſuſpected, will be a rupture between England and Spain."

NEW-YORK, September 30.

Engliſh accounts ſtate that there is little leſs than ſeventy millions of ſcrip in the hands of the original contractors, of ſpeculators, or in pawn at the bank, which is to be taken up by the public, and muſt be purchaſed before the miniſter can expect to obtain a new loan.

In Turkey, great efforts are making to form a reſpectable navy; 200 ſhips have been launched; and the grand ſeignior has given orders that all former marine ordinances ſhall be collected into a code.

N. B. To favour thoſe who may take a quantity of Tickets, the prize of 40,000 dollars will be the LAST drawn ticket, and the 30,000 the LAST but ONE:

And approved notes, ſecuring payment in either money or prizes, in ten days after drawing, will be received for any number not leſs than 30 tickets.

This Lottery will afford an elegant ſpecimen of the private buildings to be erected in the City of Waſhington—Two beautiful deſigns are already ſelected for the entire fronts on two of the public ſquares; from theſe drawings it is propoſed to erect two centre and four corner buildings, as ſoon as poſſible after this lottery is ſold, and to convey them, when complete, to the fortunate adventurers, in the manner deſcribed in the ſcheme for the Hotel Lottery. A nett deduction of five per cent. will be made to defray the neceſſary expenſes of printing, &c. and the ſurplus will be made a part of the fund intended for the National Univerſity, to be erected within the city of Waſhington.

The Drawing will commence as ſoon as the tickets are ſold off.—The money prizes will be payable in thirty days after it is finiſhed; and any prizes for which fortunate numbers are not produced within twelve months after the drawing is cloſed, are to be conſidered as given towards the fund for the Univerſity; it being determined to ſettle the whole buſineſs in a year from the ending of the drawing, and to take up the bonds given as ſecurity.

The real ſecurities given for the payment of the Prizes, are held by the Preſident and two Directors of the Bank of Columbia, and are valued at more than half the amount of the lottery.

The twenty four gentlemen who by appointment of the late Commiſſioners aſſiſted in the management of the Hotel Lottery are requeſted to undertake this arduous taſk a ſecond time on behalf of the public; a ſufficient number of theſe having kindly accepted, it is hoped that the friends to a National Univerſity and the other federal objects may continue to favor the deſign.

By accounts received from the different parts of the Continent as well as from Europe, where the tickets have been ſent for ſale, the public are aſſured that the drawing will ſpeedily commence, and that the care and caution unavoidably neceſſary to inſure a ſafe diſpoſal of the tickets, has rendered the ſhort ſuſpenſion indiſpenſable.

SAMUEL BLODGET.

☞ Tickets may be had at the Bank of Columbia; o James Weſt & Co. Baltimore; of Peter Gilman, Boſton of John Hopkins, Richmond; and of Richard Wells Cooper's Ferry. co
